

April 1895

HIGH SCHOOL AMATEUR

BEVERLY HIGH SCHOOL

The BEVERLY
Young - Men's - Christian - Association

Keeps open doors to all Young Men.

Times Electric Job Print,
12, 34 and 36 Railroad Ave., Beverly, Mass.

LARCOM, BELL & CO.,

—DEALERS IN—

Fine Groceries.

98 CABOT STREET.

E. PUTNAM,
Men's and Boy's Shoes,

ATLANTIC BLOCK, BEVERLY, MASS

ODD COATS FOR YOUTHS,

From 14 to 19, $2.25 and $2.75.

PANTS IN BLACK CHEVIOT FOR YOUNG MEN.

Ten to 15 Years 75 Cents.

I. T. WEBBER.

SALEM
Commercial School

INCORPORATED.

BEST BUSINESS METHODS.
UNEQUALLED SHORTHAND SYSTEM.
THE HIGHEST ENDORSEMENTS.

The Salem Commercial School outranks all business colleges in Essex County in everything pertaining to a first class business education. Send for Prospectus.

EMMA A. TIBBETS, PRINCIPAL.
126 Washington Street, Salem, Mass., Next to Postoffice.

THE

Graduating Number

... OF THE ...

AMATEUR

Will present the best opportunity yet for our advertisers. It will also be valuable as a souvenir as it will contain the graduating essays and a full report of the exercises.

Don't Fail to obtain a Copy.

THE BEST ICE CREAM

ALL FLAVORS,

AT THE

Dirigo Creamery.

PARK STREET, BEVERLY.

THE AMATEUR.

MOTTO:—"THE NEWS OF TODAY IS THE HISTORY OF TOMORROW."

PUBLISHED MONTHLY BY THE MEMBERS OF THE BEVERLY HIGH SCHOOL.

VOLUME IV.

BEVERLY, MASS., APRIL, 1895.

NO. 7.

LIFE.

"But a week is so long!" he said,
With a toss of his curly head.
"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven—
Seven whole days! Why, in six you know
(You said it yourself—you told me so,)
The great God up in heaven
Made all the earth and the sea and all the skies,
The trees and the birds and the butterflies!
How can I wait for my seeds to grow?"

"But a month is so long," he said,
With a droop of his boyish head.
"Hear me count—one, two, three, four—
Four whole weeks and three days more;
Thirty-one days and each will creep
As the shadows crawl over yonder steep;
Thirty-one nights and I shall lie
Watching the stars climb up the sky!
How can I wait till a month is o'er?"

"But a year is so long!" he said,
Uplifting his bright young head.
"All the seasons must come and go
Over the hills with footsteps slow,—
Autumn and winter, summer and spring;
Oh, for a bridge of gold to fling
Over the chasm, deep and wide,
That I might cross to the other side,
Where she is waiting—my love, my bride!"

"Ten years may be long," he said
Slowly raising his stately head.
"But there is much to win, there is much to lose;
A man must labor, a man must chose,
And he must be strong to wait!
The years may be long, but who would wear
The crown of honor, must do and dare!
No time has he to toy with fate
Who would climb to manhood's high estate!"

"Ah! life is not long," he said,
Bowing low his grand white head
"One, two, three, four, five, six, seven!—
Seven times ten are seventy,
Seventy years! as swift their flight
As swallows cleaving the morning light,

Or golden gleams at even.
Life is as short as a summer night
How long, O God! is eternity?"

[Selected.]

REFLECTIONS OF A LOOKING GLASS.

I am not as handsome as I used to be for my mahogany frame is scratched and my face is cracked. I suppose you wonder how I came to be so battered up, and if you have the patience to listen, I will tell my story.

I was set up in the corner of a handsome store, and I staid there so long that I began to despair of ever seeing any more of the world. After I had been there about two months, a gentleman came in and asked to see some mirrors. We he saw me he was so pleased that he determined to purchase me at any cost, and paid much more than I was really worth.

The next morning, I was carefully loaded on a van, and soon was being borne through the principal streets of the city. At last the driver stopped before a large building with the words "Hotel Clifford" in gilt letters over the door. I was carried up three flights of stairs and placed in a very beautiful room. I afterward heard the proprietor say it was the very best room he had.

Soon a lady came into the room and as I glanced at her I thought she was very good looking and I think she thought so too, for she simpered at me so long that I thought I should fall to pieces. She seemed well pleased with the reflection for I heard her murmur to herself as she turned away, "Nobody would ever guess that I was fifty today." I thought I must have been mistaken about her age, but when she took off her curly wig, removed her false teeth and washed the paint off her face, I knew that I was right. This lady staid only three days, and I was glad of it, for when she had dressed for going out, she would come and smile at me; but when she had taken off all her false things, she never dared to even glance at me.

The next morning she received a telegram saying that her daughter had returned and that a carriage would be at the door in an hour. It took her two hours to get ready, but at last after a hasty glance at me she started, and I could not help smiling at the picture she made with her bonnet strings flying and her shoes half unbuttoned. I do hope she enjoyed the visit for she had trouble enough in getting there.

The room remained empty for a long time but early one morning a young gentleman came in, and throwing down his valise, he glanced at me and then sat down to enjoy his cigar and morning paper. Presently he got up and began to get ready for a walk. He spent more than an hour trying to decide whether he would part his hair in the middle or on the side. He finally decided that it looked best parted in the middle. Then came the work of combing it that way. It took only half an hour for this and fifteen minutes more were spent in getting his necktie on straight. At last he was ready and after a glance at me to see if his hat was on straight he went out and I never saw him again, for he was arrested for forgery, so I heard the officers who came to search for proofs, say.

A very handsome lady and a rather elderly gentleman were the next occupants of the room and I thought from what they said that the gentleman had been married once before and that this lady was his second wife. One morning they had a quarrel and she became so enraged with him that she seized the ivory handled hair brush that lay on the table and aimed it at him, but with a woman's usual aim, instead of hitting her husband, the brush came straight at me and struck me with such a force as to crack my face.

The next occupant was an old lady from the country going to visit her daughter who lived in the city; but her daughter had gone away for a few days, so the old lady had to come to the hotel to stay until her daughter returned. I wondered how she came to engage such a costly room, but when the porter came up, I heard her tell him "Josiah has got plenty of money and I guess I ain't a going to be stowed away in an old attic when my Maria lives on Fifth avenue" She came into the room with her arms full of bundles and flounced down into a chair. "I do declare," she exclaimed, "I'll never visit Maria again until I write and tell her I'm coming, for I'm all beat out, trudging round the city with all these bundles. Let me see; I ain't lost nothing, have I? There's the box with the bed quilt for Maria, and two pair of stockings for her husband, and the knitted bib I brought hasn't melted and run down the front breadth of my best black dress." She got up and looked at me and truly she was a comical sight. She had on a large old fashioned bonnet trimmed with red roses and green ribbon, and as it had been a warm day her hair had come down and was straggling in thin wisps all over her head. She had a dark green sack that I should think had been made for her great grandmother, and to crown the whole, her dress, which was streaked with grease, did not come quite down to the tops of her thick leather boots.

The old lady fixed the dress the best way she could, and gave the butter to the porter to throw away, although she said "'Twas a pity to throw nice home made butter away."

This ends my story, for I suppose I will not be considered fit to stay in this beautiful room, but will be taken down and carried—nobody knows where.

A. P., '96

We the Middle class, fairly rejoice at the thought of receiving complimentary tickets as a remuneration for giving to the worthy Senior class the infinitesimal sum of twenty dollars. Hoping to see '95 rise to a higher notch than has ever been reached by any preceding class, we remain, Yours as ever, '96.

C-th-r-n! why don't you learn your geometry lessons?

SOME FACTS WORTH KNOWING; GLEANED FROM VARIOUS SOURCES.

Hon. Carrol D. Wright, the well known statistician, recently stated that facts show that "for every dollar the people receive from the saloon they pay out twenty-one."

Prof. McCook of Harvard, says that there are 46,000 tramps wandering about in the United States and that it costs Uncle Sam $8,000,000 a year to support them or about $175 for each of our sons of rest. He makes the statement also that the accessions to this army of idle human beings more than makes up for the losses by death and otherwise.

Barrooms are closed on Sunday in Scotland and Wales and in all of Ireland with the exception of 5 towns.

There is said to be a burning mountain in Australia 1800 feet in height. It is supposed to be formed of a well nigh inexhaustible coal-bed which in some way became ignited.

The scholars in chemistry will be interested to know that hydrogen has been reduced to a liquid state. This lightest of all known gases liquefies at 243 degrees below zero.

Since the introduction of electric lights in music halls and concert rooms, performers can preserve their voices in far better condition than previously owing to the fact that the atmosphere is better and the temperature more uniform.

NOTICE.

We desire to remind some of our subscribers (fortunately for us the number is far in the minority) that the school year is fast drawing to a close and that as yet their subscriptions remain unpaid. The management would like to close out the year with no unpaid bills either for or against the Amateur and we hope that those who are behind in the payment of this obligation will attend to the matter at once. The money may be handed to either of the managers or sent by mail to Box 1516, Beverly, Mass.

PUZZLEDOM.

ANSWERS TO MARCH PUZZLES.

1. A swallow in your throat.
2. Because it is the centre of gravity.
3. Indivisibilities.
4. Because they are used to healing (healing) and take care of the understanding.
5. Cargo.

APRIL PUZZLES.

1. Why are blacksmiths felons?
2. Why is grass like a mouse?
3. Why was one of the apostles fond of a certain vegetable?
4. Why is a hard driven horse like a coach wheel.
5. When may a young lady be said to resemble a foot-ball?

6. Charade.

My first spells a letter you sure will see,
My second is a machine you will all agree,
My third is a pronoun now you find,
My last is a preposition and this bear in mind

My whole gives expression or else I am blind.

7. Charade.

My first 'tis always safe to do,
My second an article well known to you,
My third of corporate powers possessed,
My whole a vice all should detest.

Where is Stanton's seat.

Although spring is here, there is still snow in the B. H. S.

Advice for the boys in Miss H's room. Don't get excited the next time there is a fire in school hours if you want to go.

Who put ink in Miss Hillman's glass of water?

Needed in one of the Physics classes. More push!

The Botany class have pressing business to attend to nowadays.

THE AMATEUR

Published Monthly by the members of the Beverly High School.

Terms. { $ .50 a year.
          .05 a copy.

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF—Allison G. Catheron.

ASS'T EDITORS.

Carrie L. Mason, '95, Literary.
James M. Beckford, '95, Athletic.
Charles P. Roundy, '95, Exchange.
Emily F. Woodman, '95, Alumni.
Sewall E. Newman, '96, } Alumni.

Alfred E. Lunt, P. G.	} Class Locals.
Florence D. Meacon.
Francis A. Guinivan,
Ella C. McLarren, } '95
Roy M. Haskell, } '96
Clara P. Smith, } '97
Dwight Davenport, }

MANAGER.

Maurice W. Randall, '95.

ASS'T MANAGER.

William H. Parker, '96.

All communications should be addressed to THE AMATEUR, Box 156, Beverly, Mass.
Entered at Post Office, Beverly, Mass., as second class matter.

EDITORIAL.

A few days ago the schools of Beverly were favored with a visit from Father Locke of Chelsea. Before the Civil war Father Locke had gained much renown as a composer and singer.

It was during this time that he met Lincoln, who was then a candidate for the presidency. Lincoln became the firm friend of Locke, who had aided his election. When the war began, Father Locke, although too old to enlist as a soldier, desired to aid his country in some way. He served as a stamp agent and on many battle fields took care of the wounded. He also aroused much enthusiasm in the soldiers, as he passed through their camp, by singing his stirring war ballads to them. The title "Father" was given to him by a boy whom he found wounded on a battle field and nursed back to health. The soldiers quickly took up the name as it was expressive of the feelings of all toward him. Mr. Locke related many pleasing stories of the war and closed by singing several of his beautiful songs to the school. His voice is remarkably well preserved for a man of his age.

There has been some talk of forming a glee club in the school. Mr. Wilson, our music teacher, proposed it and will doubtless organize one soon. We hope that all will aid him as such a club would be a credit to the school. The boys have not been doing much singing in the Literary society this year although many of them have excellent voices. More training and greater enthusiasm is all that is necessary. A glee club would accomplish this object. The Peabody High school has had one for some time and all are pleased with the results.

We are sorry for the ball team of the B. H. S. In its first games in the Inter-scholastic League it has suffered severe defeats. Still the boys must remember that some school must be defeated. The small number and size of the Beverly boys when compared with those of the other schools, makes it very natural that the B. H. S. should suffer. Boys! do not be discouraged, although you may not now aspire to first place in the league, still you have yet a chance for good work. On the track, Beverly is not at such a disadvantage, as her athletes have shown that they are not behind the other schools.

William Baird Clowes in an article in Public Opinion takes the ground that England has made and is still making a great mistake in supporting a series of military stations along the Mediterranean. He says she is merely holding the positions for the good of other nations and he claims that under no conditions whatever could her supremacy there, render the government any practical service. Such an article coming as it does from a man who has made the subject of the evacuation of Gibraltar a lifelong hobby must bear some weight and must have some grain of truth from which we may draw conclusions. If this is so, England's policy of extending her dominion by force of arms has not in this particular instance proved effective for a withdrawal from Gibraltar would mean the transfer of Egypt, Cyprus and Malta into other lands.

If Mr Clowes lived in the United States he would be obliged to give up his cherished hobby of the evacuation of our standing post for the United States has none of these of sufficient importance to trouble her statesmen. Our condition in this respect invites comparison with that of England and other countries with results decidedly in favor of our own country.

ATHLETICS.

The base-ball season has come and the captain of the base-ball team, Mr. Haskell, would like to have all those interested in baseball come down to the Beverly Common or the Peabody field and practice.

Captain Haskell, who has had his men practicing since the spring vacation, says that the prospects are bright of getting up two good teams this year.

The candidates for pitcher are: Haskell, Madden and Bradstreet.

Haskell, who pitched for the junior team last year will probably get the position of pitcher, with Bradstreet and Madden as substitute pitchers.

Beverly's weak place is behind the bat, the only candidates so far appearing for that position is Cleaves from the junior class; he is a new man in that position but is doing quite well.

There are two and three candidates each for the positions on bases and in the field. The teams will probably be formed as follows:

1ST. TEAM.		2ND. TEAM.
Capt. Haskell	p.	Bradstreet
Cleaves	c.	Bell
Newman	1b.	Cressy
Ober	2b.	Foster
Davenport	3b.	Pickett
Tarr	ss.	Foster
Madden	lf.	Patch
Ward	cf.	Corbett
Burnham	rf.	Gainivan

The executive committee of the E. I. A. A. have decided to give the team winning the greatest number of games a trophy and in case of a tie they will have power to arrange a series of games.

We see by the paper that the mayor has prohibited base-ball playing on the Common.

We hope that the mayor will reconsider his decision as the Common is the only good ball ground in the city.

The B. H. S. A. A. held a sociable in Bristol hall, Thursday night, April 18, which was a great success, socially and financially.

A fine entertainment was rendered by nine young ladies of the school in a drama entitled, "My aunt's heiress."

The different parts were very well assumed, each one acting her part excellently and everyone considering it to be one of the best entertainments held this year.

CAST OF CHARACTERS.

Mrs. John Smith	Miss Bessie Streamberg
Annie Maria Smith	Miss Margaret Endicott
Jemima Smith	Miss Emily Smith
Sophia Smith	Miss Ethel Dodge
Arabella Smith	Miss Myrtle Walker
Matilda Smith	Miss Jennie Wright
Mrs. Alexander Courney Smith	Miss Daisy Gwinn
Betsy Brown	Miss Carrie Mason
Sippets, the Servant	Miss Edith Hanson

After the entertainment the floor was cleared and the grand march begun; led by John McNeil and Miss Bessie Brainard. There were about fifty couples in the march.

After the march, dancing was indulged in until midnight. There was an attendance of about two hundred, the majority of whom had on the Beverly High School Athletic Association colors, orange and black. The proceeds of the sociable, which were about eleven dollars, will be used to pay the current expenses of the association.

The Salem High School Athletic Association held an indoor meet at the polo rink, Salem, Sat., April 6.

The object of the meet was to raise funds for the S. H. S. A. A.

There were three high schools represented; Danvers, Salem and Beverly.

Beverly's team consisted of Foster, Lewcock, Madden, Haskell, Newman and McNeil. Danvers team; Webber, Humphrey, Colbert, Perkins, Hook and Rich. Salem entered Curtis, Gannon, Hatch, Crocker and Harlow.

The sports commenced at 2.30 with the 15yd. dash, which was run in heats, Beverly, Salem and Danvers men each won a heat, but in the final, Curtis of Salem was first with McNeil and Haskell of Beverly in second and third places. Time, 2 2-5 seconds.

The next event was putting the shot. In this Danvers showed up best, Hook, of Danvers, putting the shot 28ft., 9in; Haskell of Beverly, 25ft., 11 3/4in.; Gannon of Salem, third.

The standing high jump was won by Colbert of Danvers, 4ft; McNeil of Beverly, second, and Foster of Beverly, third.

The running high jump brought out some good men; McNeil of Beverly, doing 4ft., 11in.; with Rich of Danvers, second, and Haskell of Beverly, third.

There were two events not finished on account of lateness of the hour.

The first place counted five points, second place, three points and third place, one point. Danvers won 22 points, Beverly, 18 points and Salem, 14 points.

Danvers received the silver cup given by Prof. Abbott, of Salem. Haskell, Newman, Foster and McNeil did good work for Beverly.

Salem can congratulate herself upon the success of the meet even though she did not win the cup.

AN APPEAL.

Friends, readers, schoolmates, lend us your ears;

We write to plead our cause and gain your pity.

The writing that the scholars do, stays with them.

It comes not as it ought to do, to us;
So let it be no longer. We the editors,
Have pleaded with you for your compositions;
And for you to refuse them is a fault,
For we with hard work have to pay for it.
We have brought out a paper once a month,
Whose pages we did have alone to fill;
Because the scholars would not lend their aid.
We've had to seek material far and wide,
And then have not received it, for as yet,
Of all the essays we have printed here,
Each one was written by an editor,
Except just two, and one from out those two
Was written by a junior, though you know
The juniors do not have essays to write.
The other by a P. G. written was.
This in the scholars shows but small ambition.
There still is time to remedy this fault
And much we hope it will be remedied.
Even a poem on spring we'd gladly take.
We stand in great need of contributors,
Yet cannot pause until they ready are
To hand in something for the Amateur.

—Ed. '95

NOTA BENE.

We have frequently had occasion to mention in these columns the lack of interest which the scholars take in the Amateur and the disastrous effects which this must have on the career of our school publication. With this issue Mr. Catheron ends his connection as Editor-in-chief, with the Amateur, hereafter the management of the literary department in general will be in different hands. Mr. Catheron has devoted much time and patient effort to the task of making this paper compare favorably with other amateur journals of a like nature, and considering the difficulties under which he has labored his efforts have been most successful. The editorial board is conscious of a great loss and the Amateur sincerely hopes that even if Mr. Catheron cannot carry on his old duties that he will occasionally contribute something of a literary nature to the success of our paper. Let the school support the new Editor as heartily as possible and let the remaining three editions keep up the standard of excellence set up for us in the months past.

WANTED, LOST AND FOUND.

Wanted: A victory in a base-ball game. Apply to Roy Haskell, captain.

Lost: All ideas for a graduating essay. Any one returning same or furnishing new ones will be liberally rewarded.

Found: Whispering talent of a high order among the juniors.

Wanted: Some one who is expert in re-binding music. Apply to Ro--dy and R-nd-ll, '95.

Found: A suit of base-ball clothes in the Senior boys' dressing room. Owner may have same by calling and paying storage charges.

Wanted: Some person or persons who will find out to just what pitch the piano is tuned.

Wanted: A carload of spikes with which to fasten down the settees in the hall during singing period.

Found: An inverse and novel method of announcing the results of an "exam". Apply to a member of the Middle Greek Class.

Lost: The privilege of holding class meetings during school hours. '95 will prove itself thankful to anyone returning the same.

Found: An exceedingly clever set of electricians. Apply for practical working details of any complex job to Electricity Class, of '95.

Lost: A severe case of "swelled head" on the part of the Middle Class. No reward offered for return of same.

LOCALS.

"Ask the boss."

The junior class pins are clasp-pins.
Hussey is to be '95's photographer.
Don't forget that only a teacher can use keys.

In the spring the senior's fancy to his graduation turns.

The athletic social was a decided success.

What can be the matter with M-d-r? When called on for his secretary's report, he had neither report nor excuse!

The seniors have held stormy class-meetings, but will hold no more during school hours.
"None so deaf as those who won't hear."

I remember, I remember
When I was a junior small;
I remember how I trembled
At my first down-front-ward call;
How afraid I was of seniors,
How I scarcely dared to play,
And yet, how my deportment
Never reached the longed-for A.

As a committee to arrange for, and receive at the reception; the class has appointed Mr. Guinivan, Mr. Randall, Mr. Roundy, Miss Endicott, Miss E. Smith and Miss Mason.

The senior secretary, Mr. Mader, having resigned, the class has elected Mr. Mader to serve for the remainder of his term.

The essayists at graduation are to be Mr. Roundy, Mr. Beckford, Miss Brown, and Miss Streamberg. Miss Meacom is to be class proptess and Mr. Randall, class orator.

The Seniors will give invitations to their reception to the Middle and Post Graduate classes.

Hereafter the Middle class will please wait till they are asked before they refuse their aid.

Chemistry boy: "Please hand me a piece of that solution."

Several of the French class were electrified by a shocking occurrence the other day. It was enough to make one's hair stand on end.

Have you seen or heard B-ckf-rd's electroplated cat?

The flowers that bloom in the spring, tra-la,
Are the ones for the Botany Class.

One of the History scholars cannot understand why "a man named Dauphin" should inherit the French throne.

LOCALS.

When the millenium comes.

M-d-r will write his secretary's reports.

The Botany boys will "behave like men."

The Chemistry class will go out of the right door.

The Senior boys will have learned to walk.

The school will pass to the hall noiselessly.

Senior essays will be in on time.

The Civil Government scholars will know their lesson.

P, will be content with running the Middle class, and leave '95 alone.

The editors will receive a voluntary contribution from someone.

According to one of the Middlers who takes junior latin, Sir Walter Raleigh removed his coat and vest for Queen Elizabeth.

'96's class meeting in Miss Cole's room was exceedingly short and sweet.

EXCHANGES.

When a man has an idea that the world owes him a living, the best thing he can do is to go out and collect the debt. —Clarion.

Professor in chemistry—"The substance you see in this vial is the most deadly of all poisons. A single drop on the tongue of a cat is enough to kill the strongest man. —Sol.

Teacher—"Ears have they and they hear not." To whom does this refer?"

Pupil—"Corn stalks."

Soph—"What did the lecturer say when you threw cabbages at him?"

Fresh—"He said he expected the audience would be pleased but he did not think we would completely lose our heads." — Skirmisher.

Of their own merits modest men are dumb.

—Life.

Aunt Sally—"Goodness me! how can the president be so extravagant with the people's money?"

Uncle Peastracó—"What's the matter? Aunt Sally---Only think of keeping those pesky Indians on Government preserves."

A man too busy to take care of his own health is like a mechanic to busy to take care of his tools. —Enterprise.

EXCHANGES.

As our Exchange list is quite a little altered since the first of the year it may be interesting to some to know with whom we exchange.

Advance, Salem, Mass.; Archon, Madison, Wis.; Authentic, Stoneham, Mass.; Beacon, Chelsea, Mass.; Bulletin, Lockport, N. Y.; Bulletin, Cincinnati, O.; Calendar, Buffalo, N. Y.; Clarion, Portsmouth, N. H.; Clarion, West Roxbury, Mass.; Classic, Orange City, Iowa.; Cosmos, South Orange, N. J.; Courant, Freeport, Ill.; Courier, Ashland, Wis.; Crucible, Greeley, Colo.; Dial, La Crosse, Wis.; Distaff, Boston, Mass.; Drury Howler, N. Adams, Mass. Enterprise, Westboro, Mass.; Fence, New Haven, Conn.; Forum, Annville, Pa.; Gleaner, Pawtucket, R. I.; Herald, Westfield, Mass.; Howler, Maywood, Ill.; Item, Dorchester, Mass.; Journal, Chicago, Ill.; Journal, Rutland, Vt.; Lever, Skowhegan, Me.; Livingstone, Salisbury, N. C.; News, Orange, Mass.; Oak, Lily and Ivy, Milford, Mass.; Omnium Gatherum, Iion, Ill.; Opinion, Peoria, Ill.; Pantagraph, E. Syracuse, N. Y.; Pen, Pittsfield, Mass.; Phi Rhonian, Bath, Me.; Pioneer, Willimantic, Conn.; Premier, Fall River, Mass.; Purple, Worcester, Mass.; Quarterly, Glens Falls, N. Y.; Quill, Astoria, Oregon; Racquet, Portland, Me.; Record, Cleveland, O.; Record, Newburyport, Mass.; Record, Sioux City, Iowa; Recorder, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Recorder, Ellsworth, Me.; Recorder, Lynn, Mass.; Recorder, New Bedford; Reflector, New Britain, Conn.; Reporter, Clinton, Mo.; Reporter Junior, Salamanca, N. Y.; Review, Barraboo, Wis.; Review, Lowell, Mass.; Review, Normal, Warrensburg, Mo.; Skirmisher, Bordentown, N. J.; Spectator, Woodstock, Ont.; Sol, Princeville, Ill.; Student, Richfield Springs, N. Y.; Sub Alis Sto, Peekskill, N. Y.; Tabula, Torrington, Conn.; Visitor, Haverhill, Mass.; Voice, New London, N. H.; Volante, Vermillion, S. D.; World, St. Paul, Minn.

Boss—"Pat, take that load to the gymnasium."

Pat—"All roit, and sure oi will." Pat (down the street) "Ond could oi trouble your honor to tell me where James Nasium lives?"

ALUMNI.

Several of the alumni who attend Harvard spent their spring vacation in town.

'92 class held a sociable in Briscoe hall, March 29.

'94 Lawrence Watson is thinking of giving an opera sometime in July, called "Julius Cæsar."

'94 The first member of the class was married in March.

Three of the training school scholars are taking botany with the class of '95.

The scholars would be glad of any help which the Alumni might offer them, in order to prepare them for the coming Essex County Inter-scholastic athletic meet, which is to be held on May 25.

'94 class will hold a sociable on May 9.

Fred Stopford is staying in town.

'94 Miss Bessie Meacom has finished the course of the Salem Commercial school.

A number of the Alumni were noticed at the B. H. S. A. A. sociable held in Briscoe hall, April 18.

'94 Miss Nina Goodridge has resumed her position with Miss Preston, Broadway.

The class in Cæsar is often "too full of the subject for utterance."

For laws of etiquette, apply to T-r-r and P-rk-r.

When first I met charming Nora. C-th-r-n, '96.

That some of the middlers have minds of their own, was shown by an incident in the recitation room, when a pupil tried to convince the class that four feet was one-third of a yard.

Who was your servant last year P-rk-r?

One of the Philosophy class claims to have pulleys in his heart.

"Stiff in opinion" in the Philosophy class. K-l-h-m.

Exhibition of accomplishments on the street car—School girl sews on a button.

"The course of true love never runs smoothly." The truth of this has been discovered by one of the Middlers.

For thorough instruction in Bookkeeping, Short-hand, Typewriting and Penmanship, attend the

- Metropolitan Business College -

(NEAL & NEWHALL BLOCK.)

228 ESSEX ST., SALEM, MASS.

Send for Catalogue.

Good, Durable and Stylish Clothing.

Fine Hats, Caps and Furnishing Goods,
Trunks, Bags, Umbrellas, Etc.
Always at Lowest Prices, at GRIFFIN'S CLOTHING HOUSE, 124 & 126 Cabot St.

Emerson G. Gordon,

Caterer <sup>and</sup> Confectioner.

132 CABOT ST., BEVERLY.

All kinds of Cake and Ice Cream constantly on hand.
PARTIES SUPPLIED.

Telephone 135-4.

DODGE & SCOTT,
Hay, Flour and Grain.

No. 70 PARK STREET.

Telephone, 743-9.

BUXTON'S
Circulating Library.

All the popular novels of the day constantly received,
255 CABOT STREET, BEVERLY.

PHILIP DWYER,
Merchant Tailor.

92 Cabot Street,

PERRY COLLIER'S BLOCK, BEVERLY, MASS.
Cleaning, Pressing, Dyeing and Repairing at short notice.

HUSSEY, Best Workmanship,
Reasonable Prices.

Photographer for Class of '05, Beverly High School.

252 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

F. L. HILDRETH,

Artist Photographer.

LEFAVOUR BLOCK BEVERLY, MASS.

OUR CLOVER LEAF FORMOSA TEA,
ONLY 50 CENTS PER LB.

Can't be beat for less than 60c. by any other dealer.

HUNTOON'S

SUBSCRIBE FOR THE AMATEUR

And find out what is going on at the B. H. S.

ADDRESS BOX 1516, BEVERLY.

PUT YOURSELF UNDER BUSINESS MEN
FOR A BUSINESS TRAINING.

The SPENCE & PEASLEE BUSINESS COLLEGE

Is graduating capable young men and women. Words of highest praise come from their employers.

YOU cannot afford to be under inferior instructors.
WE will not employ them.....

Our Teachers are of National Reputation

No. 210 ESSEX STREET, SALEM, MASS.

Lux Engraving

295 Congress St.
BOSTON, MASS.

Manufacturers of Half-Tone Cuts.
reproductions of College Sketches.

Illustrations for College Journals and Books
Reproductions of Pen and Ink drawings, Copy, Script, Autograph letters &c.
Views of College Buildings, copies of Architectural, Scientific and other Drawings.

Class Pictures
and Portraits of the Faculty printed, to bind in College Books & Journals.

Call Cards · Menu Cards · Dance Orders ·
Artistic Programmes ·
Invitations &c.
Correspondence Solicited.

Lux Engraving Co.
295 Congress St.
Boston, Mass.